AN OFFICIAL ACCOUNT

The King of Saxony Orders an Explanation Made Subjects.

The Elopement of the Queen to Be the Subject of a Formal Publication.

AFFAIR CREATED DISRESPECT

Berlin, Jan. 1.—King George of Saxony has ordered the preparation of a full, official account of the elopement of the Crown Princess Louise and the circumstances leading up to it for the Saxons, among whom the most fantastical stories are in circulation, to the detriment of the royal people, especially with reference to the future king. The scandal is undermining, according to some opinions, the people's loyalty and respect for the throne. The dynasty being Catholic, and the people Protestant, the affair is being utilized for sectarian controversy. The king's statement, doubtless, will follow the line indicated in the intimations, supplied to the newspapers having court leanings, published today, affirming that the crown princess' sole reason for eloping was her criminal relations with Prof. Giron, and that documentary proofs have been found showing that the elopement had been in preparation. The stories of ill treatment on the part of her husband, of oppressive court ceremonial and of her fettered existence are classed as inventions.

The crown princess' own statement of the immediate cause of her flight from Salzburg, written to an intimate friend, presumably the Princess Theresia of Bavaria, was telegraphed from Munich this morning. It says her father, the grand duke of Tuscany, intended to imprison his daughter in a lunatic asylum or in an Italian convent. He already had consulted the court physician and several medical authorities in Vienna, with the object of obtaining certificates warranting him in shutting her up.

Her father, the crown princess adds, was giving her no time for deliberation. He demanded first, that she be taken under guard to Dresden, to apologize to the crown prince, and that she then choose between confinement in a convent or in a madhouse. The crown princess asks the Bavarian court to use its influence with the court at Dresden to permit her children to choose their vocation in life freely.

DEAR OLD LEXINGTON

FEW OF HER SHORTCOMINGS EXPOSED.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 1.—The political address made here by Charles J. Bronston, president to his announcement, created another sensation in the pending mayoralty campaign. Democratic malice in Fayette county was held up to the most withering sarcasm and biting ridicule.

He reaffirmed all his previous charges of fraud against the head of the Fayette fiscal court, and emphasized new ones more severe than the first. Facts, figures and public records were quoted to substantiate the charges he made.

He closed by stating that, "after making all fair and reasonable allowances, there was the enormous sum of $53,000 not accounted for on the books, and which has gone to satisfy the extravagant luxury of the happy few in charge of the court and in control of the fiscal affairs of the county."

PARTY LAST EVENING.

Mr. Will Webb was the host of a party at the Kentucky last evening that included Miss Anna Ptombs of Nashville, Tenn., Miss Elizabeth Blumett, Miss Ethel Morris, Miss Henrietta Koger, Mr. Dr. O. Parks of Nashville, Tenn., Mr. for the Denelson and Mr. Everett Denelson, of Marion, Ill.

MORGAN'S FINE PRESENTS.

New York, Jan. 1.—J. P. Morgan & Co. today gave employees cash presents aggregating $10,000.

A NEW YEAR BEGINS

A General Holiday Quietly Observed in Paducah Today

Many Minor Business Changes Became Effective Here Today and Others Probable.

OFFICIAL BUSINESS SUSPENDED

New Year in Paducah has been quietly settled, and there has been little business transacted. The public institutions, as on other national holidays, have been closed and many of the factories shut down and the business houses closed at noon for the day.

There have been no courts, and the usual business has prevailed. Last night the customary welcome was given on the new year by whistles and bells and there were many watch parties.

A great many changes have taken place today in business circles, most of them of a minor nature.

Today the Y. M. C. A. was thrown open to the public and this afternoon and night will be enlivened by entertainment both musical and literary.

The ladies' committee has charge this afternoon and a regular program has been arranged. Mr. H. I. Fitch, Mrs. George B. Hart, Mrs. W. T. Miller, Misses Brantley, Constance Puryear, Mayme Dreyfus and Addie Miller and Prof. Gilbert Dodd and Dr. Froegge are down on the program for musical numbers. Refreshments will this afternoon be served and tonight refreshment will be served also at the mock trial. The mock trial will be a feature heretofore new to people in Paducah and there will no doubt be an excellent attendance.

Keeper of the City Prison T. J. Evitts, who was elected in November, took charge of the lockup last night, and Lockup Keeper Meniffee retired. Mr. Meniffee has moved temporarily to 1730 Monroe street until his new home on Harrison between Seventh and Eighth is completed. Mr. Evitts will move into the house vacated by Mr. Meniffee adjoining the city hall. Officer Joe Potter, who has been Mr. Meniffee's efficient deputy, also retires and Mr. Smedley becomes deputy under Mr. Evitts. Mr. Meniffee has been placed on the police force in Officer Evitts' place until the commissioners make the regular appointments, and it is thought he will then be placed on permanently.

The consolidation of the Smith and Scott, the Flennoy and the Porter-Hudson Tobacco companies, the latter of Paris, Tenn., went into effect today, and the new traveling men all start out at once. The details of the deal are already known, the negotiations being completed several weeks ago.

The I. O. shops are idle today except in the round house where a few men are employed on the engines that have to go out today. The machine and wood working shops are idle and will remain so throughout the day.

Rev. G. W. Perryman, pastor of the First Baptist church, has ended his second year, and last evening the deacons raised his salary to $2,000. Dr. J. T. Reddick was elected a deacon.

Mr. Columbus Turner has been appointed general manager here for the Fidelity Loan company, of Louisville, which he has represented for the past six months.

ORIGINAL "TOPSY" DEAD

EMOGENE TRACY HELPED MAKE "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" FAMOUS.

New York, Jan. 1.—Emogene Tracy, one of the best known songwriters of a generation ago, is dead as a result of a fall downstairs at her home in this city.

Miss Tracy took up the part of Topsy in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" after the role had been created by Mary Bates and played it for many years. She was the one chosen to play the part in Europe at the time a fund was raised to have the play produced there.

FOR COW STEALING

Graves County Man Arrested by Chief Collins Today.

He Is Alleged to Be Wanted in Carlisle County for the Offense.

ANOTHER COW WHEN CAUGHT

Chief of Police James Collins made an important arrest this morning in the person of Ivory Crawford, of Anytime, Graves county, a small place near Mayfield, who is wanted in Carlisle county for cow stealing.

Last night a farmer named Holt from Carlisle county, complained to the police that a cow had been stolen from him and said that he had traced the animal to the Thompson stock yards and from there to a butcher's slaughter house. Andy Pindy was the butcher and on applying to him, and giving a description of his cow was assured that Pindy had his cow. The butcher had killed the bovine, however, but it was easily identified by the hide. A good description of Crawford was obtained from Mr. Thompson, of the stock yards, and Mayfield authorities were immediately communicated with when it was learned that Crawford had gone home.

This morning he walked into town again, this time with another cow. He was leading it by a rope and seemed greatly surprised when arrested as he claimed to have purchased the cow from a farmer near Hickory Grove. Chief Collins thinks there will be no trouble in convicting Crawford and is holding him to arrange for his deposition. He is investigating today to see how Crawford got the second cow.

THREATEN TROUBLE

ANTI-PRIMARY MENSAY CHAIRMAN YOUNG IS IGNORING RULE.

Frankfort, Jan. 1.—Chairman Albie W. Young of the Democratic state executive committee may be served with a rule for contempt of court when he arrives here Monday next to preside over the meeting of the committee called by him for that day.

Representatives of the anti-primary side say that the call of Chairman Young, which announces that the committee will fix the details for the Democratic state primary, is clearly a violation of the temporary restraining order granted them by County Judge Polagrove, and that no step can be taken in the matter till the injunction is dissolved, which has not been done.

One of the attorneys in the case stated that it has not been definitely determined whether a rule would be asked for.

Miss Lottie Johnson of Metropolis is visiting Miss Ethel Bailey, her cousin.

CASTRO HAS GIVEN IN

He Has Virtually Accepted the Proposal of Powers

The French Claim to be Treated as Those of England and Germany.

ANSWER AT WASHINGTON

Washington, Jan. 1.—The answer of President Castro to the proposals of the allies to submit to the arbitration of The Hague tribunal the Venezuelan difficulties has reached Washington through Minister Bowen. The answer amounts to a general acceptance of the principles of the proposition, President Castro being willing to submit his case to the arbitration of fair and impartial authorities. The details of the answer will not be published here in advance of its reception by the European allied powers and, in fact, it may be withheld entirely from publication on the ground that it really belongs to those powers.

Today the answer is being prepared at the state department for transmission to Europe. As it is quite long and undoubtedly will require careful consideration by the foreign offices at London, Berlin and Rome, it is not expected that any further steps toward a final settlement can be taken for a day or two. The feeling here, however, based on a knowledge of Castro's position, is that his answer practically clears the way for the submission of the case to arbitration. The answer has given great satisfaction here.

Paris, Jan. 1.—A dispatch from Caracas confirms the statement that Venezuela has promised France to treat her claims as those of Great Britain, Germany and Italy, but adds that a similar promise was refused to Belgium, Spain and Holland.

DIED IN HOSPITAL

EMPLOYEE OF THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL VICTIM OF CONSUMPTION.

Mr. R. E. Whitmer, age 49, died at the railroad hospital last night at 12 o'clock of consumption after an illness of several weeks. He had been in the hospital only eighteen days. He resided at 1304 Jackson street and leaves a wife and one son, Mr. Sam Whitmer, a machinist in the local I. C. shops. The remains will be shipped tonight to Central City where he formerly resided. He came to Paducah about eleven years ago and at the time of his illness was employed as stationary engineer at the shops here.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT GIVES BOND.

County Superintendent of Schools A. M. Ragsdale this morning gave a bond for another year, the Fidelity and Deposit company, of Maryland, becoming his surety.

MORE EVIDENCE NOW

Key Found on Persons of Alleged Safe Blowers Fit Door

Of the Store Robbed at Confederate, Ky.—Chief Collins Well Pleased.

POLICE DOING GOOD WORK

Chief of Police James Collins has developed new and stronger evidence against O'Neil and Russell, the suspected safe blowers who were arrested here several weeks ago, and feels confident that the authorities will have no trouble whatever in convicting the men.

When arrested the men had concealed burglar tools of all descriptions, which the police found, along with keys and gun-cotton and other explosives used by safe blowers. All were taken by the police and last week Messrs. Cummins and Ramey of Confederate, Ky., whose house was entered and the safe blown, were given a key to try on their door. This key fitted the lock exactly and adds much to the evidence against the men.

The skeleton keys were made of copper wire hammered out flat and turned to any point. They had several keys that were unfinished, but several were completed and out of the latter lot the merchants from Confederate identified the key that unlocked their store. Chief Collins is jubilant over the outcome of the test and is gratified that stronger proof is being secured.

The police have done excellent work of late and this last achievement has gone abroad and the good work of the Paducah police who captured the men after the Cincinnati and Louisville police had failed, has been highly commended. The safe blowers passed through the above cities and were not once suspected. When they got here however they went up against the real thing and the penitentiary is yawning to receive them.

SHIRAS TO RETIRE.

GOV. TAFT PROPOSED AS HIS SUCCESSOR.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Justice Shiras of the supreme court of the United States will retire some time during the present winter. The date has not yet been fixed and cannot be until certain cases which have been argued and other cases which have been held for reargument have been disposed of. Mr. Shiras, however, will retire during the present session of congress in order that his successor may be confirmed before the adjournment. Among the names proposed as his successor is that of William H. Taft, civil governor of the Philippines.

FOUR MORE.

THE BIEDERMAN COMPANY WILL PROBABLY OWN FOURTEEN IN ALL.

The Biederman Grocery company, which has secured control of a number of groceries throughout the city for the past several weeks, has four contracts pending for stores that will probably be closed before the expiration of the week, and when the pending contracts have been closed will have fourteen stores in addition to the central store at Seventh and Washington streets.

INJURED DOING WELL

INVESTIGATION OF I. C. WRECK WAITING ON CONDUCTOR McOANN.

All the victims injured in the Illinois Central wreck at Caneyville water tank, Saturday morning, are on the road to recovery. The date for investigating the collision will depend on Conductor McOann's recovery, whose leg was amputated Sunday. His condition showed improvement yesterday.

Mr. Frank Boone has returned from Little Rock.

SHE DIED IN AGONY

Maggie Carroll Commits Suicide at Mallie Grooms.

Drank Half a Bottle of Carbolic Acid and Lived Less Than Ten Minutes.

LITTLE KNOWN OF HER

Maggie Carroll, an inmate of the Mallie Grooms resort, on West Court street, drank one and a third ounces of carbolic acid last night, just as the whistles and bells were announcing the new year's arrival, and died five minutes later.

The woman's right name was Carroll although she sometimes went by the name of Roush, and she had lived in Paducah for about six years, coming from Cincinnati, where she was born twenty-three years ago. She lived with Mrs. Sue Eggleston on a nonsobor for several years, and for a time in Metropolis, but three months ago went to Cairo and upon her return a week ago entered the resort of Mallie Grooms. She seemed in good spirits throughout the day yesterday and had been down in the city to the afternoon shopping.

Last night shortly before 12 o'clock she went to her room, procured a three ounce vial of carbolic acid that she had procured in Cairo, and poured nearly half into a small glass and took it down stairs with her. She went into the parlor and while standing drank the acid. A companion came in directly after she had drunk the poison and seeing her reeling, laid her on the sofa. "Annie, I am gone" was all she said and upon smelling in the glass, her companion learned that she had taken carbolic acid. Drs. Robertson and Hoyer were called, but were unable to save her and five minutes after she had taken the drug she died. It was thought once she revived but it proved to be only muscular contraction.

Little is known of her family history except that she has a father living in the soldiers' home in Dayton, O., a very old and feeble man, and no other relatives are known.

The remains were taken to Ellinger's undertaking establishment, where Coroner Peal held an inquest this morning at 10 o'clock.

There was nothing to show why she killed herself, as she left no note or explanation, but it is supposed that she became despondent. The verdict was suicide by carbolic acid poisoning.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock, burial at Oak Grove.

SENTENCE COMMUTED

GOV. BECKHAM REDUCES PUNISHMENT OF A WIFE MURDERER.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 1.—Governor Beckham commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Joe Hooker, the Lincoln county colored wife murderer. The judges of the court of appeals signed a letter to the governor, in which they stated that they thought he should have clemency, Hooker, who had been separated from his wife, shot her and claimed self-defense on the ground that she was about to attack him with a razor. Colonel Bennett H. Young, of Louisville, this afternoon accepted employment as associate counsel for the state in the Louisville and Nashville merger case.

A NEW PARTNERSHIP.

Dr. Harry Williamson has become a specialist. Dr. Williamson and Dr. Will Wayne have formed a partnership and will occupy the office now occupied by Dr. Wayne. TOBACCO SMUGGLERS

Organized Gang Believed to be Operating.

Large Amounts Reported Brought By Smugglers and Stokers.

New York, Jan. 1.—Nevada Stranahan, collector of the port, from certain evidence in his hands, believes that there is a regularly organized gang of tobacco smugglers engaged in bringing the leaf into this country on the North Atlantic passenger liners. He is satisfied that he knows the principals in the illegal traffic and he is preparing now to close the nets around them and arrest the ring leaders and as many of their tools and underlings as he can lay hands on and find legal proof against.

In line with his plans to root out the evil many seizures of tobacco have been made recently.

Mr. Stranahan said today: "Practically every month since I have been in office seizures of smuggled tobacco have been made. Always it has been Sumatra wrappers, on which the duty is $1.85 a pound. Every evidence points to an organized trade and I am satisfied that I know the men behind it. The stokers and sailors whom we have arrested and convicted have had their fines paid in every case."

MAY RESIGN

COUNCILMAN JOE FOWLER INTIMATES THAT HE CONTEMPLATES IT.

Councilman Joe Fowler, who has been in public service in Paducah for many years at various times, talks of resigning at the next meeting, when President Charles Reed tenders his resignation.

"It may be," he significantly remarked this morning to a reporter, "that he will not be alone when he resigns."

"Do you mean that you will resign, captain?" he was asked.

"Well, I didn't say that," he replied, "but there may be others besides Councilman Reed."

Captain Fowler has intimated before that he was disgusted with public life, and it is believed he intends to resign Monday, also.

IS IMPROVING.

MR. G. W. EDWARDS HAS BEEN CRITICALLY ILL FROM PTOMAINES.

Mr. George W. Edwards of Monroe street near Fifth is improving from ptomaine poisoning. He became ill Christmas from eating soups, and for a time was in a critical condition. Dr. Cooley attended him and he has for the past several days been getting better, but is not yet able to be out. It is the second case of poisoning from soups in the city within the past week.

WEALTHY WOMAN

Find a Long Lost Sister at Lexington, Ky.

A Happy Reunion Boding on the Dramatic Follows.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 1.—Mrs. H. G. Sutherland, a handsome and rather cultured looking woman, registered at the Leland hotel as a resident of London. Behind her coming is a pretty little story, emphasizing some of life's unexpected antitheses.

Mrs. Sutherland's arrival she arrived after considerable search, to the boarding house of Mrs. Kate Long, where she found a woman giving the name of Mary Sullivan at work in the kitchen.

The women rushed into each other's arms and a pathetic scene ensued. Examination in Mrs. Long that followed revealed that Mrs. Sullivan was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Sutherland; that she had been a resident of Chicago, where her husband had been employed with the Illinois Central railroad, but lost his job during the great strike in that city. She was not well to do parentage and had married a man who had established a hotel during the world's fair, but later suffered reverses.

She and husband and out and went to Cincinnati, where she sold jewelry to get along. Came to Lexington, where she became a domestic, and both lived meagerly, she refusing to let her people know her circumstances. Mrs. Long says her husband would not work, but Mrs. Sullivan loyally refused to connect his name with unpleasant reports, and defends him against all such charges.

Several weeks ago the husband left and went to Louisville, where he now is, but she refused to give him name or business. Then she wrote to Boston, and Mrs. Sutherland's coming was in response to that letter. She provided Mrs. Sullivan with money and clothes, and the two left at 3 o'clock today for a happy home reunion. She has been hunting for her for several years. The woman made an excellent impression on Lexington people. She is said to have money. Neither will talk.

NEW MAIL BOX

SOME ONE SUCCEEDED IN MAILING LETTERS IN THE FIRE ALARM.

The postman on lower Broadway this morning found letters deposited in an unusual place. Many times incidents where persons attempted to mail letters in the fire alarm boxes have been reported, but it is the first instance on record where they succeeded.

Somebody who evidently didn't know the mail box from the fire alarm opened the small receptacle that holds the key with which the box is opened to turn in an alarm, and deposited several letters there, and they remained until the postman's attention was called to them.

ARRESTED FOR KISSING

YOUNG COUPLE AT JACKSON, MISS., FAILED TO HEED WARNING OF POLICE.

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 1.—The first arrest ever made by an officer of the city of Jackson for kissing was made Sunday afternoon at the depot, and a precedent has been established that will be strictly adhered to in the future. During the afternoon, when the waiting rooms were crowded with ladies and children, complaint was made to the police that a young couple, strangers in the city, were making themselves ridiculous by their repeated osculations. The police called the couple to time, but they did not stop, and it became necessary to place them under arrest. They were taken to police headquarters as soon as it was discovered that they were under the influence of liquor and there released on their own recognizance to return to Jackson next Wednesday and stand trial on the charge of kissing in a public place. It is not expected that they will return.

STILL LIVES

ALTHOUGH THERE IS A KNIFE BLADE IN HIS BRAIN.

Asheville, N. C., Jan. 1.—With a knife blade in his brain for a week to the depth of one and five-eighths inches, Rufus Jones of Balsam Mountain, near here, still lives, with a chance for recovery. In a fight last week with "Mont" Duncan, Jones was struck above the left ear with a knife, and the blade penetrated his skull and entered the brain. It broke off and remained in the man's head until last night, when it was removed and the skull was trepanned. The attending physician says the man has a show for recovery. Duncan escaped and has not been captured.

VICTIM OF CONSUMPTION.

Mr. Arthur Pace, aged 18, died last evening at the city hospital from consumption. He had been at the hospital for about three weeks, and the remains were taken to Nance and Spaulding's to be prepared for burial and held for instructions from relatives.

PHYSICIANS PUZZLED

COULD NOT DIAGNOSE TROUBLE WHICH CARRIED OFF REV. DR. MARKS.

New Decatur, Ala., Jan. 1.—The Rev. Dr. Marks, a retired Methodist clergyman, aged 80 years, is dead near Shelbyville, Tenn., from a disease which baffled the diagnosis of skilled physicians from New York, Chicago and many other cities. A thin sheet of cartilage or bone commenced its growth four years ago and encircled the man's body from the pelvis to the chest, gradually suspending the functions of the organs until death ensued. The pressure of the cartilaginous growth upon the heart and other organs of respiration is believed to have been the immediate cause of death.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP.

DISTRIBUTION IN THE UNITED STATES DELAYED UNTIL FALL OF 1904.

Angusta, Me., Jan. 1.—W. W. Stetson, state superintendent of schools, has received semi-official information from Oxford, England, relating to the scholarships under the Cecil Rhodes will. Each state is to receive two, and it has been supposed these would be granted at once, but it is now expected none can take effect before September, 1904. It is also said that only one appointment will be made in each state the first year.

WAS ACCEPTED.

REV. CAVE TO LEAVE PADUCAH IN A SHORT TIME.

The Presbytery at Henderson has accepted the resignation of Rev. W. E. Cave of Paducah, which was tendered night before last and he was dismissed from this Presbytery, and will go at once to Raleigh, N. C., to accept the pastorate of the largest church there.

Rev. Cave has returned from the Presbytery and begins preparations at once to move to Raleigh.

Contractor Pat Halloran of Cedar Bluff was here on business today.

NEARLY TWO HUNDRED

THIS IS THE RECORD FOR THE POLICE DEPARTMENT LAST MONTH.

Chief Collins' report for the month just closed is out, and inaugurates one change. Hereafter no report will be made public of the number of arrests made by each individual officer, as it apparently gives some of the officers an advantage and causes some of the best officers the city has, whose beats are in the outskirts where they have little opportunity to make a showing, to appear in a bad light.

The number of arrests made last month were as follows:

Breach of ordinance, 18; vagrancy, 4; breach of the peace, 44; drunk and disorderly, 17; disorderly conduct, 10; bench warrant, 1; malicious shooting, 3; malicious cutting, 2; malicious assault, 1; immorality, 8; petty larceny, 12; robbery, 4; grand larceny, 7; obtaining money under false pretenses, 4; suspect, 5; housebreaking, 6; fugitives from justice, 3; flourishing a pistol, 1; carrying concealed weapons, 4; mayhem, 1; false swearing, 3, and gambling 1. Total, 186.

SPANISH POLICE PAID.

FRENCH AUTHORITIES GIVE THEM $3,000.

Paris, Jan. 1.—The Humberts continue to absorb public attention here. Minister of Justice Valie brought the subject before the council of ministers, saying he had given $3,000 to the Spanish police for assisting in the arrest of the principals in the famous safe frauds. This is additional to the $5,000 reward offered for their capture. It is expected that the prosecution of the Humberts will not begin for several days. The prisoners have so far declined to name their lawyers, and the court has designated Maître Ghonn to appear in their behalf.

—The newly appointed supervisors of the city tax books, Messrs. Eli G. Boone, Alonzo Elliott and Frank Digel, will begin their work of supervising Assessor Dick's books next Monday.

WEDDED ON A FAST TRAIN

ENGLISH GIRL MARRIES A RANCHMAN ON THE OVERLAND LIMITED.

Newcastle, Wyo., Jan. 1.—Quite a stir was created among the passengers on an overland train when Robert G. Somers of Moorcroft, Wyo., and Miss Margaret A. McOavin of London, England, were married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Westover of Newcastle. The bride had traveled over 5,000 miles to meet young Somers, a wealthy ranchman.

Somers and the minister met Miss McOavin here and the knot was tied while the train was running at a rate of 50 miles an hour. The ceremony was later repeated at the home of the bridegroom in the presence of a large number of friends.

DOUBLE MURDER

AMERICAN IN LONDON ALLEGED TO HAVE KILLED TWO WIVES.

London, Jan. 1.—George Chapman, whose preliminary trial is still going on here, was arraigned on additional charges of murdering his first and second wives, the nitro-glycerine of whose exploded remains indicated that they had been poisoned. The prisoner has applied to Counsel General Evans for protection.

Chapman went to London from America in 1893. He was arraigned at a police court October 27 last, charged with having poisoned a young woman reputed to have been his wife.

 it returns no more; wisely improve

THE WEATHER.
 Today has not been so cold as yesterday although the sun has not been out. The mercury dropped as low as 24 last night. The weather indications for today are cloudiness with probable rains or snows. The barometer is falling which indicates the above.

The thing is to make the city electric light plant what it should be, no matter how it is done, provided the advantages justify the cost. The people do not care who owns or operates the light plant so long as the lights are satisfactory.

Councilman Joe Fowler says if he has a relative on the News-Democrat, he does not know it. He declares that the charge that he has a nephew on the paper, and the insinuation that he was influenced in any of his public acts by the alleged fact, are all news to him.

When the Louisville sensational holdup is sifted down, it will probably develop that some hobo was put off a train by the conductor, and the conductor got the worst of it. Real train robbers do not often do business in the manner described in the accounts of the Louisville holdup.

A great deal now depends on what sort of assessments have been made in the city and county. The supervisors are about ready to begin work and they should do it well. The revenue the city will have and the rate of taxation depend on the valuation of the property as shown in the assessment.

Kentuckians should rally to the support of the exhibit association, which is making an effort to have Kentucky properly represented at the St. Louis exposition. The gentlemen who are working in the cause deserve
 the co-operation of everyone, and the state will be proud of their work if every one will put a shoulder to the wheel and assist.

President Castro seems to have had a lucid interval. He practically agrees to the arbitration proposition.
 His first intention it will be remembered, was to annihilate both England and Germany. It should be a source of great satisfaction to the peace-
 nations of the earth to learn that he has at last consented to spare our coastline across the water.

The past year in Paducah has been a prosperous one commercially, but the city itself has made little or no progress under the present administration. There has been more or less confusion from the change of class,
 but not enough to justify the lack of advancement. Paducah's future is bright if she is allowed to advance. It is hoped that the year we have just entered into will be a better
 one than the last, and that Paducah will go forward with mighty strides. The business and building outlook is good, and the prospects
 could not be better, if the men in power do not try to hold us back.

Two important decisions have just been rendered in New York. One is

The people expect abuse for the Republican council that held office several years ago and put in the sanitary sewerage, because it was the only progressive body of men who ever served in the council, and naturally aroused the envy of the Democrats, who for years had plodded tranquilly along without doing anything. Its administration was never so bad, even if as bad as painted by our Democratic contemporaries, as to elicit abuse and calumny from its own party. If any Republican administration could possibly be as bad as the Democrats themselves admit and declare the present Democratic administration in Paducah is,
 it will be difficult to convince anyone
 of it.

TO BUILD LINE

Linemen for the Postal Arrived Today to Begin.

Will Start the Line From Paducah to Cairo on New Division.

This morning a corps of fifteen linemen arrived to begin work on the new telegraph line that is to extend from Paducah to Cairo along the line of the Illinois Central. Work will begin at once and it is thought will require a month or more, at the most, as there will be thirty or forty miles to build.

Information was today received that Mr. G. M. Dugan has been reappointed superintendent of the Postal's lines for another year, the local office still being under his supervision. It was formerly on the western division but it is now on the southern. Mr. Dugan is now under Mr. C. C. Adkins, of Atlanta, Ga., instead of Mr. Malley, of Chicago.

Mr. J. M. Ezell arrived today from Chicago to accept a position as operator in the local office of the Postal.

 pleasant impression on all when he was here in December, and will be an addition to the city.

Expelled Ministers are Meeting in Missouri.

They Want to Found a Socialistic Church.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 1.—A preliminary convention to organize a religious movement that shall include persons persecuted for their faith and that will interpret Christianity along the lines of socialism was held here.
 Fifty persons who had either been preachers or speakers attended the meeting and the movement was well started. After the aid of other socialists has been enlisted a complete organization will be effected.
 The meeting assembled at the call of Rev. Granville Lowther, a Methodist minister, who was expelled from his church in Winfield, Kan., for hersey because he insisted on preaching socialism from his pulpit. Rev. Ryder of Kansas City, Kan., was one of the prime movers also. He said at the convention yesterday:

"Because I preached Christianity as Christ taught it I was set aside with my wife and four children from the Methodist church last spring. Some men would have seen nothing ahead but starvation. But I had faith in Christ, and now I have a church in Kansas City. I am free to preach the truths of Jesus. No ecclesiastical denomination has any shackles on me."

H. D. Wright of Delphos, Kan., said that he had been raised an infidel; he sought the light, but every preacher was bound to the obdurate and dare not tell the truth or he would lose his bread and butter. At last he found that Jesus Christ was a socialist, and then happiness came to him.

J. A. Hankins of Collinsville, I. T., told of being expelled from the Methodist church because he attempted to proclaim the truths of socialism in that church. "For eight years," he said, "I've been alone with Christ and the doors of the churches have been closed to me. I was persecuted for my beliefs and driven from my home town. I had to put my wife and two little children in a wagon and travel from place to place looking for work and telling my glad story
 to all who would listen."

Mrs. Hymer of Lincoln made an impassioned speech in which she declared that Christ had made special revelations to her. Others who spoke were Dr. J. G. Roger, president of the Interstate college at Humphrey, Mo.; Rev. F. M. Cummings, pastor of the Christian church at Anthony, Kan., and Prof. Mills of the Socialistic school in Argentine, Kan.

Mr. John Bonds has gone to St.
 Louis on business.
 Mr. James Clements is home from

I PACK MY TRUNK.

What shall I pack up to carry
 From the Old Year to the New?
 I'll leave out the frets that harry,
 Thoughts unjust and doubts untrue.

Angry words—ah, how I rue them!
 Selfish deeds and choices blind—
 Anyone is welcome to them!
 I shall leave them all behind.

Plans? The trunk would need be double.
 Hopes? they'd burst the stoutest lid.
 Sharp ambitions! last year's stubble!
 Take them, Old Year! keep them hid.

All my fears shall be forsaken,
 All my failures manifold;
 Nothing gloomy shall be taken
 To the New Year from the Old.

My contentment, would 'twere greater!
 All the courage I possess;
 All my trust—there's not much weight
 there!

All my faith, or more or less.
 And I'll pack my choicest treasure,
 Smiles I've seen and praises heard,
 Memories of unselfish pleasure,
 Cherry looks, the kindly word.

Ah, my riches silence cavil!
 To my rage I bid adieu!
 Like the Greeks I shall travel!
 From the Old Year to the New.

 Magazine.

LUNCHEON AND CARD PARTY.

Miss Virginia Noble entertained a few of her married friends yesterday afternoon from 2 to 5 at her West End home with a enochre-luncheon. The prize was won by Mrs. W. H. Bradley.

Her Futura Provided For.
 The little daughter of Beerbohm Tree, the famous English actor, is the subject of a pleasing story. Once when some visitors were talking of theatrical matters, a lady took the child on her knee and said: "And you, my dear, I suppose you intend to be a great actress when you grow up?" "Oh, no, not at all," was the self-possession response, "Mamma intends me to marry."

King Alfonso Observant.
 The young king of Spain may be troublesome to those nearest him, but he is evidently not lacking in keenness. One hundred years ago, he says, news was carried across Spain in one day; now, with the telegraph, it takes two days. A king who observes details can most likely find a way to remedy them.

An Inherited Complexion.
 According to an English physician,
 offspring always takes the complexion from the father. Hence, if the father of a negro baby has any white blood in his veins, the child at birth will be nearly as white as a Caucasian. On the other hand, the child of a white mother and a black father will, after a month's time, be nearly as black as the full-blooded negro.

Extensive Advertising.
 No street in the world can boast of
 so many advertisements as Broadway, New York. The combined length of the two sides of Broadway is 52,800 feet. The amount of advertising on the buildings and in shop windows is such that it would take a man between eight and ten days of eight hours each to read his way up one side and down the other.

No Epidemic.
 A reputable party said he counted 100 empty whisky barrels in New Green a few days ago. Taka-ing account and figure how many electrical prescriptions filled? And have not noticed that an epidemic has prevailed.—Pike.

Theatrical Notes.

Mr. Otis Skinner has reason to feel proud of his reception last night in Paducah. Having come here only once before, he last night packed the Kentucky theater and made standing room hard to find. It was a very select audience and four box parties added to the beauty and attractiveness of the occasion.

The audience greeted Mr. Skinner very enthusiastically, and when it filed out everyone seemed to have been pleased, although doubtless a great many of the more critical were disappointed.

"Lazarre" is a kaleidoscopic play that is without particular interest, and even when worked into a drama from the novel of that name, with painstakingly devised climaxes, is mediocre. It affords a true artist of the stage little opportunity to display his talent. The character of "Lazarre" taken by Mr. Skinner is portrayed in an artistic pleasing way, but there is nothing to it. Just so much can be made of it, and no more. Probably the finest actor on the stage could not play it better than Mr. Skinner, and perhaps many of those unknown to fame could have played it just as well. The play is one that does not call for genius. Many repertoire productions are vastly more thrilling, and afford just as much of a vehicle for the display of histrionic art.

The scene of "Lazarre" quickly shifts from New York to Europe, thence to Russia, and back to America. The play is full of incongruities, anachronisms, and impossibilities, therefore it does not appeal much to a critical audience. But as said already, Mr. Skinner and his troupe make the most of it. They do the best possible with a play that seems best fitted for some cheap city theater. His support is good, and the members of his company make the best of the small commonplace parts, that mostly make up the play. Good work was done by Mrs. Skinner (Maud Durling as "Eagle" by Mr. Walter Allen as "Dr. Chantry," Jane Butt as "Ernestine," Nannette Comstock as "Annabelle," Ben F. Ringgold as "Count de Provence," F. Van Rensselaer as "Bellanger," and Charles B. Welles as "Napoleon."

These parts, however, are of the kind that most any actor who can act at all can play, but full justice was done them by the talented people Mr. Skinner has with him. There is no such opportunity for any of them, however, from Mr. Skinner, who plays a role that is at times very unnatural, and possibly a tax on any conscientious actor with a regard for realism, to the most unimportant super, as there was when Mr. Skinner was here last year in "Francesca De Rimini," with an unexcelled support included Wm. Norris, Marcia Van Dresser, Aubrey Bonicant and others, the best on the stage.

Last night Mr. Skinner and his company were given certain calls after every act, and before the last Mr. Skinner made a curtain speech thanking the people for the welcome and wishing them all a happy New Year.

The attraction at The Kentucky Saturday matinee and night is to be Gertrude Coghlan in "Alice of Old Vincennes." The play is a dramatization of Maurice Thompson's celebrated novel of the same name. The original production will be brought here complete, and the scenic effects will arouse the curiosity as well as excite the admiration of all who witness them. The title role is most congenial to Miss Coghlan, and with her histrionic gifts, her magnetism and charm of face and figure, it is no wonder that she has been received with such acclaim wherever she has appeared in the part. The sale of seats will open Friday at 9 a. m. for both performances. This will be one of the great dramatic treats of the season.

One of the most important theatrical events of the season will be the appearance of Gertrude Coghlan in "Alice of Old Vincennes" at The Kentucky Saturday matinee and night. In this play, dramatized from the pages of Maurice Thompson's idyllic romance of Revolutionary days, Miss Coghlan portrays an American heroine, who is a type of exquisite beauty, of tender sweetness, of wholesome womanliness and of heroic fire. HENPECKING DAYS.

A FESTIVAL FOR WOMEN IN WHICH MEN MEELY SUBMIT.

In the little hamlet of Nordhastedt, near Meldorf, a singular custom was observed the other day. According to tradition, it dates back to the thirteenth century. During that era the hamlet was on one occasion attacked by a band of robbers and the men of the village were soon compelled to beat a retreat. Thereupon the women boldly attacked the robbers and not only vanquished them, but also took the leader and several of the band prisoners. As a token of their gratitude the men have since allowed the women to celebrate this great event by holding a festival at stated intervals, and on such occasions they exercise no authority themselves, but submit in all things to the will of the women.

The latter greatly enjoy their temporary supremacy and as a symbol thereof never fail to fasten a large wooden slipper to every lamp and chandelier in the hamlet. This curious festival was recently held at Nordhastedt and while it lasted there were no meeker or more docile men on earth than the men of that hamlet.—Gold-Penny.

PERSONNEL OF THE NAVY.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 1.—The members of the senate and house naval committee, after conferences with the secretary of the navy, have practically decided on a plan for the increase of the personnel of the navy. It contemplates an additional naval cadet for each congressional district, two for each senator and ten annually to be appointed at large by the president. The difficulty in connection with the inequality in classes which would result from the sudden injection of the increased allowance is to be solved by giving the secretary of the navy the discretion of determining the times at which the new appointments are to be made.

COUGHING SPELL CAUSED DEATH.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for a physician, but before he could arrive another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Dec. 1, 1901." Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois and Co.'s.

PAPERS WERE SERVED.

The papers in the indictment found by the federal grand jury last November against Mr. Herman Friedman were yesterday afternoon served by Deputy Marshal G. W. Sanders, and Mr. Friedman gave bond in the sum of $300. Mr. Joe Laevison becoming his surety. Mr. Friedman is charged with selling intoxicating liquor under another name by shipping some of it to Gracely, Ky. Mr. Friedman's beverages have always been de-facto non-intoxicating, and it is anticipated he will have no trouble in being acquitted.

BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP

Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough, oppressed, rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry O. Stearns, druggist, Shullsburg, Wis., writes, May 20, 1901: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois and Co.'s.

POPE WILL NOT ANNUL.

New York, Jan. 1.—The request to dissolve the marriage of the crown princess of Saxony has not yet been received, according to advices from Rome. It is said the request will be refused, if it is made, because there is absolutely no canonical ground for the annulment of the marriage. The pope, greatly grieved at the scandal, is reported to have dispatched to the emperor of Austria a letter expressing deep condolence.

"Here! what are you doing there?" demanded the suburbanite's dog to the old hen in the coalbin. "Why," replied the hen, "I heard master say last night that this is the proper time to lay in coal."

CHARGES AGAINST GOODNOW.

A FORMAL ATTACK MADE ON OUR CONSUL GENERAL.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 1.—John Goodnow, United States consul general at Shanghai, has been made the object of formal attack by the American association at Shanghai, and the charges will be only investigated by the state department. The principal charge is connected with the transfer from the Chinese to the American flag of a vessel. It is alleged that the consul general charged excessive fees for his part in the transfer. Again it is charged that he refused to perform his duty in ordering a court of inquiry to examine into the facts connected with the wreck of this ship.

Mr. Goodnow has put in a vigorous defense, asserting that the first charge, based principally on the affidavit of a Chinese, is untrue. To the second charge he replies that he was not approached by an authorized person to order the court. It is expected that when the state department comes to take up this case, the questions at issue being mainly of fact, it will refer the matter to the United States legation at Peking for examination and report.

MUCH BUILDING.

City Engineer L. A. Washington is preparing his report for the year, which shows that there were issued building permits to the amount of $179,415, distributed as follows: January, $12,200; February, $34,800; March, $19,400; April, $24,875; May, $10,510; August, $1,970; September, $13,380; October, $47,840; November, $10,780; December, $14,860. In May and June no permits were issued because there was no city engineer. August was the driest month, while October was the busiest.

NEW BRIDGE STARTS.

The new 83 foot bridge that is to be built over Ware's branch by the Illinois Central and the county, where the railroad crosses the county road, was begun today under the supervision of County Surveyor Bert Johnson. It will cost several thousand dollars and be one of the best in the county. Twenty-five teams are now engaged in building half a mile of branch road near the crossing and it is expected that the work will be completed in two weeks.

WILL REMAIN IN PADUCAH.

Last night the Illinois Central depot lunch stand changed hands and Mr. P. Lann is today in charge. He succeeds Mr. Moore Whitaker who has been managing the stand for the Southern News company for the past ten years. Mr. Whitaker does not know what he will do yet, but his many friends are urging him to open up a cigar stand here. He has several offers of good positions, and will remain in Paducah.

HE FOUND A CURE.

R. H. Foster, 318 South Second street, Salt Lake City, writes: "I have been bothered with dyspepsia or indigestion for 21 years, have tried many doctors without relief, but I have found a cure in Herbine. I recommend it to all my friends who are afflicted that way, and it is curing them too." 50c at DuBois and Co.'s.

COUNTY SUPERVISORS MEET.

The board of county supervisors meet Monday to begin their work of going over the county tax books prepared by Assessor John Hughes. The board is composed of Messrs. Jacob Engler, W. R. Hite, R. B. Baldry, W. K. Randolph and W. O. Howard, of the county, and G. H. Davis, Harry Savage and J. D. Berryman, of the city. The work requires several weeks.

The Knife Throwers

By FREDERIC
VAN RENSSLAER DEY.
Author of "Not Like Other Men," etc.

Copyright, 1901,
By Frederic Van Rensselaer Dey.

The old servant could restrain himself no longer, but sank into a chair,
buried his face in his hands and wept.
Wyndham strode to the window and let the old man sob on unheeded, while he drummed with the ends of his fingers upon the pane and stared into the darkness.

When James' sobs ceased, Craig Wyndham turned back into the room and, placing one hand gently upon the old man's shoulder, spoke kindly, but
with an intensity that had an instant effect. The power of the man shone in his eyes at that moment, and, although his face was pale and drawn, he was outwardly as calm as if nothing unusual had occurred.

"James," he said, "I believe you loved your master very dearly."
"As if he were my own son, sir, or more perhaps, I never had a son, so I do not know."
"You would sacrifice much for him,
would you not, James?"
"Everything, sir—life itself, if that could do any good."

"You loved his father also, James?"
"With all my heart, sir."
"Would you be willing, James, in order that justice may be done not only to your dead master, but to his father's memory, and for the sake of the family name, to permit a great shadow to fall upon you for a time?"

"I don't know what you mean, sir," replied James humbly. "I only know that I am willing to do anything that I can do in doing it I can serve him."
"I believe you, James. Now, listen closely to what I have to say. Your master is dead and by the act of an assassin. A great crime has been committed, and that crime is the result of events that happened long ago. I know something of the history that led to this deed, but my information is very meager. I have no doubt that you are aware of many things connected with this strange history which will assist me to unravel this tangled skein. We will talk of that later. The death of Mr. Pendleton must be reported to the police and to the coroner at once. If we say anything concerning the visit of this stranger and the subsequent open door, as you believed you had closed and locked it, suspicion will point its finger at him, but we cannot say one thing or prove one circumstance to convict him of the crime, and he would therefore escape. My consulting him with the affair at all we would strengthen the position he is in,
for you may be sure that he has planned thoroughly to save himself. On the other hand, James, there are those who will suspect you of the crime."

James started back with a cry of horror.
"Suspect me?" he almost shouted.
"Yes, James. If you look at it calmly, you will see that I am right, and James, that is precisely what I want the world to believe. I want you suspected of this crime, but only for a time."

"But why, sir, why?"
"So that the person who really did
it may be thrown off his guard; so that I will have time to work out to the end all of the facts connected with the crime that I now know so little about;
so that I may have time to guard against the revelation of things that I am sure Burr Pendleton desired never to be known; so that I may be enabled to fulfill what I know would be his wish were he still alive to direct me what to do, and finally so that I may in the end pay the hand that struck your master to death. Mr. Pendleton lived in a shadow, James—a shadow of the past. He guarded it jealously, even from me, his closest friend. Now it becomes my duty to work it out until I know all that I am sure he meant to tell me tonight. Lastly, James, there is one reason more vital than all. It is more than probable that suspicion will fall upon me also. I think the man who committed the deed will endeavor to bring that about. If you disappear, thus convincing others that you are guilty, it will leave me free to work; if I am hampered in any way,
that fact will play into the hands of the enemies of Mr. Pendleton. Will you do what I wish you to do, James?"

"I will do whatever you think best, Mr. Wyndham," replied the old man simply. "I know that Burr loved you and trusted you more than any other person in the world. Tell me what I am to do, sir, and I will do it."
"Then you must leave the house at once, taking nothing with you. I will write an address upon this card where you are to go. Assume the name of Thomas Judson. Wait; I will write a line for you to take with you."

"Wyndham tore a leaf from his notebook, wrote rapidly upon it and passed
it to the old servant.
"Give it to the lady who will admit you at that address. Wait there for me until I come, no matter how long that time may be. Will you do it, James?"
"Yes, sir."
James, very much in the manner of one who is stupefied, found his hat and then returned to the room where Wyndham was awaiting him. The friend of his master was still standing in the middle of the door and evidently had not moved after the instant when Judson left him.
"I am ready, sir," he said. "Can I—

What I should see—him—before I—"
"No, James," was the calm reply.
"Go as you are. Forget that you have seen him at all except as you saw him last in life. What comes after that—ah, well! As you are, James. Do not forget your overcoat. The night is cold."

James hesitated at the door. He stopped and looked back, but Wyndham was still in the same position in the middle of the door. He did not raise his head or make a sign, and the old servant stepped sadly into the hall
and closed the door.

Wyndham still remained in the attitude of one who is listening. He could,
in fact, hear the old man's footfalls as he descended the stairs; he could hear the bang of the outer door when it closed, and not until then did he make a move. Even then he only raised his head, so that he could listen more intently, and waited.

Many minutes passed in this manner,
but at last, as if satisfied that there was no chance that James would return, he closed the inside shutters at the window, after which he helped himself to a portion of the brandy on the center table.

After that, with distinct deliberation, he opened again the door which communicated with the room where Pendleton's body had been discovered.

He approached it and for a moment stood silently regarding the gruesome aspect. Twice he sighed deeply. Once he bent forward and intently examined the hilt of the weapon that had taken the life of his friend, but he did not touch the body or the chair in which it rested. (Once he looked toward the door—he had left ajar—but not with the startled glance of one who expects to discover somebody peering in upon the scene; it was more as if he were measuring the distance and relieving by calculation some mathematical doubt that still possessed him.)

There was a safe in one corner of the room, one of those little iron safes that lock with a key. The key was in the lock, and from it dangled others attached by a ring—a ring that he had often seen in the possession of his friend.

He threw the door of the safe open without hesitation, and with an air of familiarity that is indescribable selected certain bundles of documents which he deposited on the floor beside him. Then he removed the key from the lock, selected another from the ring that was suspended to it and with that one opened an inner drawer of the safe. From that, also, he removed the papers, but those he placed in his pocket. Then he unlocked the drawer, replaced the larger key in the safe lock, closed the door again, arranging it as nearly as possible as he had found it and deposited the papers he had abstracted from the safe in various pockets about his clothing.

Then he sighed while he looked again
intently upon the body in the corner.
For a moment after that he remained apparently in deep thought, with bowed head and tight lips, and then he went out of the room and sought
the one habitually occupied by James.
There he selected a handkerchief,
which bore the name of the old valet,
and returned with it to the room of the tragedy.

Ten minutes later he quietly left the house, and as quickly as he could traverse the distance he re-entered the club where he had parted with Pendleton less than five hours before. He went at once to the desk.
"Has Mr. Pendleton returned?" he asked, and on being informed that he

"Your name is not known," he said. "Will you be seated, sir?"
"Thank you. I also claim friendship with Mr. Pendleton. I made his acquaintance in Mexico, where we had many pleasant hours together. I met him here early this evening—before the dinner hour, in fact—and expected to see him again about this time. I have heard him speak of you so often that when the clerk at the desk told me
your name—I entered the club immediately after you—I took the liberty of sending my card to you."

"I am very glad that you did so. Mr.
Pendleton and I had only just met when he was called away, doubtless by you. I also expected him here about this time. We will wait for him together. In the meantime be my guest, Mr.—pardon me, but I am unused to Spanish names. May I ask how you pronounce your name?"

"I use the first one of the two, Escudera. Yes, I did have the club with Pendleton. In fact, I went to his house with him, but I remained only a moment. I discovered that he was very tired and so agreed to meet him
here later, where he did me the honor to say that he would present me to you."

Wyndham's eyes sparkled for one brief instant, for he knew that statement to be a lie. He knew that Pendleton did not intend to return to the club that night and that he had not promised such an introduction to the Mexican for the very reason that he expected to spend the evening in his rooms with Wyndham. It was the first time in the score that he intended to make against the Mexican.

Refreshments and cigars were ordered and two hours passed while the men conversed upon every subject that either could think to introduce, and at last it was the stranger who suggested that the hour was so late that there was small chance that Pendleton would appear at the club that night.

It was Wyndham's suggestion that they should go out together, and they strode along the avenue side by side as far as the hotel where the Mexican was stopping. After that Wyndham returned to the club and, finding a number of congenial friends engaged at one of the card tables, played with them until daylight.

It was rarely that he did such a thing, but that night he had especial reasons for it and never had he appeared to better advantage or played the game with more scrupulous care.

Always during the game it seemed to him that he could see his friend as he saw him in the sleeping room of his apartment sitting dead in the chair in the corner, and at such moments deathly faintness stole over him, which required all his strength of will to conquer.

He knew that he was incurring a deadly risk in acting as he had done,
for if it should appear that he had been
to Pendleton's rooms unseen, which might in any case attach to him, would
in the minds of many take the form of certainty.

Still for the plan that he had formed
during the few moments when he stood by the window while James wept near him he was pursuing the only logical course. He felt that he must take the chances.

SCOTT HARDWARE CO.

BIG WHITE STORE BROADWAY.

2½ Tons will heat your home comfortably with a FAVORITE HEATER.

Even if hard coal costs $10 per ton it would be cheaper for you in the Favorite Base Burner than $6 coal in other makes. This is a positive fact and Scott, the stove dealer, will prove it to you or refund your money. It beats using soft coal at any price.

It beats using gas and we all know about using gas in zero weather.

All people have been more or less worried on the fuel subject. The Favorite Base Burner will positively settle your worry in the most satisfactory and economical way.

SURPRISE WEDDING

FULTON GIRL AND MAYFIELD MAN MARRY AT CAIRO.

Mr. Roll Albritton, a popular traveling salesman of Mayfield, and Miss Daisy Willingham, of near Fulton, surprised their friends by getting married at Cairo.

Misses Willingham and Vivian Hall of Water Valley, were visiting the family of Mr. Mack Moss at Fulton. Mr. Albritton and Miss Willingham planned to get married, so they left Fulton at midnight for Cairo and were married there.

The bride is one of West Kentucky's prettiest young ladies and was sponsor for Camp Pirle, Confederate Veterans at the Dallas reunion last year.

DEFYING THE COMPANY

LEBANON PEOPLE WILL DIS-PENSE WITH TELEPHONES.

Lebanon, Jan. 1.—The employees of the Lebanon, Louisville and Lexington Telephone company are busy moving their phones from dwelling and business homes here. The company notified patrons that it would raise rates 50 cents. The city having a contract with the company at certain rates the citizens held a mass meeting and defied the company and ordered their phones out.

TRAIN WAS DELAYED.

The passenger train on the Illinois Central due at noon today from Memphis was reported six hours late. It is understood that there was a wreck at Canton, Miss., which delayed the train out of Memphis.

—John Splitz and Lon Dersh, two Germans, were arrested this morning for drunkenness and paid their fines this morning and were released.

WILL DEVELOP THE SOUTH.

NORTHERN CAPITALISTS INVEST IN RICHMOND.

New York, Jan. 1.—Of great significance to Southern local enterprise is the official announcement today of the purchase by Frank Jay Gould and associates of New York of the control of the Richmond, Va., Passenger and Power Co., a consolidation of interests in and about Richmond, aggregating twenty old millions of dollars. A prominent Wall street banker said today:

"The significance of the big deal by which the Gould interests acquired control of the Richmond Passenger and Power Co., especially in reference to local enterprises in the South, cannot be overestimated.

"It means that in the opinion of Northern capitalists the security and profits offered by Southern local investments can no longer be ignored. This move on the part of Mr. Gould is, in my opinion, only the first step of Northern capital into local Southern fields."

THE LIGHT PLANT

IT IS PROBABLE THE BOARDS WILL TAKE BIDS

It is probable that the council and aldermanic committee appointed to investigate the advisability of "farming out" the electric light plant will ask bids for taking charge of it and running it, and if the propositions are satisfactory let it to the lowest bidder.

TO DIVIDE AN ESTATE.

A suit was filed in circuit court today for Dora Durrett and others against Mary Gleichman and others for the division of real estate.

THE FATAL SPOT

In everybody's foot there is one weak spot—The toes are strong, the ball of the foot is firm, the heel is unyielding, but the ARCH of the foot under the instep is a weak place. Being arched it is wholly unsupported—being weak its the one place that gets tired, but all the same its the muscle by which you walk, its the one part of the foot that needs to be helped.

The Dorothy Dodd Shoe

supports the arch of the foot by a special curved shank between the inner and outer soles, this shank exactly follows the arch of the foot. It holds its shape and supports the foot.

Respectfully.
